Public Schools Registration Is Increased

ABOUT 75 NEW STUDENTS ARE NOW ENTERED

Pupils From Several Districts Come to Canyon Schools For This Year's Work

ASSEMBLY IS HELD

Superintendent Irby Carruth Outlines Work and Introduces New Faculty Members

The Canyon public schools opened Monday with an increased enrollment of 75 over last year, owing to the number of students which are being transported to Canyon from the common school districts. Supt. Irby Carruth states there are 225 enrolled in the high school and 310 enrolled in the grades, making a total of 535 to date. Mr. Carruth stated yesterday that there was plenty of room in the schools to take care of additional students who wished to come.

A large number of patrons attended the opening exercises Monday.

Following a group of selections from the high school band, Rev. Earl Craig gave the invocation. Supt. Carruth outlined the work for the coming school year. The aim of education is to make life worth living—to get the best out of life. Mr. Carruth announced that the Palo Duro and Wilson schools were being transported to Canyon this year for the first time, and that pupils from Ralph, Lakeside, and Tierra Blanca were continuing as they did last year.

Mr. Carruth urged that patrons of the school get acquainted with the facilities of the school and Local Students Are to Do Work For NYA at W. T.

Wayndon Fain, Lela Bell Johnson, Kathrine Long, Wilma Hixson, Jewell Chambers, Rubye Foster, George Brasuel, Armor Lee Greenfield, Lela Hickox, Mary Ella Davis, Malcolm Bull, Winnie D. Hicks, Margery Tankersley, Marjorie Wilkinson, Fred Hart, and Landon Terry of Canyon have been chosen by W. T. to receive aid in attending school under provision of the National Youth Administration. Each county's quota has been determined on a basis of attendance in past years.

The college has been granted aid for 102 students and President J. A. Hill is requesting further aid because of the serious drouth conditions which prevail over most of Texas. The fall semester opens Sept. 15, and all NYA students have been asked ot report on that date.

GETS NEW EQUIPMENT AT PALO DURO STATE PARK

Supt. Wm. Anderson of the Palo Duro State Park was agreeably surprised by receiving ten new trucks Sunday. The Big Bend and Palo Duro were the only two camps in Texas which received more than two new trucks.

Mr. Anderson states that all phases of work at the Palo Duro is progressing nicely in spite of the small company of men. He expects recruits after the first of October to bring the company to full strength.

A new architect arrived this week, since the Palo Duro has been without an architect for some time.

IMPROVING HOME

J. W. Kleinschmidt is adding two rooms and bath as a second story to the family home on Sixth Avenue.

Miss Winnie Dee Hicks returned home Sunday from Amarillo where she has been visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hamrick the past week.

Hotel or Tourist Camp Great Need of Canyon Today

Canyon has a most pressing need for better facilities to handle tourist trade.

A modern hotel, or modern tourist camp is recognized as the most important need of the day.

Last Saturday night a number of visiting hardware dealers came for the annual picnic of the hardware association, and drove to Amarillo to stay Saturday night and Sunday night.

Scores of inspectors from the national park service visit the Palo Duro Park every month, and all of them stay in Amarillo.

Visitors who come here during the college year very often headquarter in Amarillo because there is no moderen hotel facilities in Canyon.

Local citizens are contemplating building a modern tourist camp. They have been advised that it will pay with improved conditions over the nation, which will increase travel. Local people should encourage those who are interested in these projects.

Buffaloes Open Training Period Today at W. T.

Coaches Will Whip Men Into Shape With First Game Coming Friday of Next Week

Coaches Al Baggett, Marshall May and Bob Cox are busy today at the Burton gymnasium issuing equipment to the Buffalo football candidates. Intensive training will be started this afternoon, whipping the team into shape for the opening game of the heavy season on the night of Sept. 18.

"Practically all of the men we were counting on are back," stated Coach Baggett. "The boys look good, and are ready to get right into training for the season's work," stated the Coach.

Enthusiasm has prevailed among the men as they returned during the past week to make arrangements for opening of the training season.

Captain Leo Jackson was among the first of the squad to arrive and looked to be in the best of condition. Other men of the squad have been working out of doors most of the summer and are hardened for the job confronting them.

The squad will be put through a strenuous gait during the coming week, since there is only eight days before they must take the field against the Panhandle A. & M. College of Goodwell.

Furniture For New Postoffice Ordered by Department Man

A representative of the Postoffice Department was here from Washington yesterday working up the requisition for new furniture to be placed in the new postoffice building.

All new furniture and fixtures will be placed in the building.

Postmaster Guy Harp and employees of the local postoffice were highly pleased with the type of furniture which was selected to be installed.

Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Lockhart left Sunday for Alpine where he will be physician for the Sul Ross State Teachers College.

Irrigation Rates Continued by City During September

Property Owners Urged To Soak Trees During the Coming Month as Many in Danger

The City Commission extended the special irrigation rate for September which was allowed on the August bills. This rate is a discount of 30% on water which is used for irrigation purposes.

The rate is extended in order that citizens of Canyon may soak their trees immediately. So little rain has fallen during the past three months that many trees in Canyon will die unless they are soaked before the winter freezes come.

Canning Exhibit of H. D. Women to be Held Wednesday

Randall County Home Demonstration Women under the direction of Miss Allie Dozier, county home agent, will hold their annual exhibit and judging of canned products and clothing next Wednesday, Sept. 16.

At the same time judging for the Ball Bros. jar contest will be held. Members of the clubs have been working on these projects during the summer canning season and the large display and assortment of canned foods that will be shown is something that everyone will want to see.

The public is invited and urged to attend this annual exhibit which will be held this year in the American Legion Hall. The judging will begin at 9:30 Wednesday morning. The products winning places will be entered in the Home Demonstration Department of the Tri-State Fair exhibit.

Those having entries in the contest may bring them in Tuesday afternoon so that the display may be arranged before judging time Wednesday.

Randall County Is Included In Drouth Section of State

H. H. Williamson of College Station wired J. W. Tapp, Chairman of the Drouth Committee at Washington, on Monday of this week recommending that Randall county be placed in the drouth section.

A telegram was received this morning that Washington had affirmed the recommendation.

Including the county in the drouth territory will mean better WPA regulations, possibly a greater number of NYA students, and lower rates on feed.

Hardware Association Hold Picnic at Palo Duro Park

The annual picnic of the Panhandle Hardware and Implement Association was held Sunday at the Palo Duro State Park. A dance was held Saturday night at the lodge, which was attended by a number of the members.

The picnic section at crossing No. 8 was reserved by this group throughout the day. A barbecue dinner was served at noon.

N. E. Hord, 74, of Amarillo was in charge of the barbecue and died Sunday night after returning to his home as the result of a heart attack. He was up all night Saturday, and the exertion proved too much for his heart.

CRIMINOLOGIST WILL TALK TO ROTARY CLUB

C. Roy Hanson of Chicago will speak next Tuesday at the luncheon of the Rotary Club. He is a noted criminologist and lawyer who has prosecuted several of the noted criminals of the east.

Visitors interested in this subject will be welcomed at the luncheon Tuesday, provided reservations are made with President H. A. Brown or Secretary Robert Foster by Monday noon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Murray and daughter, Virginia, are attending the Centennial in Dallas and Ft. Worth. Miss Virginia will enter S. M. U. at Dallas next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Cline and son of Iowa City, Iowa, are here to visit at the parental C. M. Presley home.

Improvements are Made at W. T. as Session Opens

Many Changes Made In the Physical Plant During the Past Summer Months

Many small improvements are being made on the college campus in preparation for the opening next Tuesday.

Furniture is being installed in the ten student cottages, all of which are rented for the fall semester. The equipment of the cottages included electric refrigeration and gas stoves.

The south rooms of the original Ccusins Hall have been reconditioned, floors are newly finished, walls have been painted and new beds and rugs have been installed.

Walks have been constructed at Stafford Hall. These with the new lawns have greatly improved this men's dormitory. Only six rooms remained to be rented in it at the close of last week.

The heating plant and water system of the college is undergoing repairs. These have to be made about every three years.

Showers and lavatories are being installed at Buffalo Courts. It has

Bids Again Called on Postoffice For Opening October 9

October 9th has been set as the date for opening new bids on the postoffice in Canyon. Bids were opened last month, but J. J. Fritch of Dallas was the only contractor to make a bid on the construction. While his bid of $57,300 was in line with the amount of similar buildings in this section, the department rejected the bid as failing to be competitive.

An effort will be made to secure other bids from this section owing to the necessity of getting the postoffice under construction before winter.

Contributions For Roosevelt Fund Being Received

A number of contributions have been received during the past week to the Democratic war chest for the re-election of President Roosevelt.

Citizens wishing to make contributions may leave them at the News office, at the Bank, or at the Postoffice.

W. S. Amend, member of the City Commission, walked into the News office Tuesday morning with a contribution, and said:

"Here is a little Republican donation to help re-elect the only man who has tried to do anything for the common people of this nation. He saved the homes of the people. He saved the farms and the farmers. While I have always been a Republican, I feel that should I vote against President Roosevelt, some one ought to kick me over the fence," was the characteristic statement of the City Commissioner.

Those who wish to assist in raising the $404 quota for Randall county should leave their money at one of the three places this week.

Rain Falls Over Several Sections Randall County

Only Showers Fall In Canyon, As Good Rains Hit County; Row Crops Are Helped

Rain fell in various parts of Randall county Thursday, Friday, and Sunday, but practically none hit Canyon and the immediate vicinity.

A light shower here Thursday afternoon amounted to a quarter to half inch rain in various sections of the south part of the county.

More than two inches of rain fell in various sections of the north part of the county Friday afternoon, but it did not even sprinkle in Canyon.

A heavy cloud hung over the South Plains Sunday afternoon, and again the southern section of Randall county received good rains. But only a light shower fell in the Canyon vicinity.

Row crops have been greatly benefitted in many sections of the county. Reports from several farmers in the south part of the county state that the row crops will be normal in many sections.

Big Christmas Gift Offering Being Collected by Merchants

The regular distribution of cash will continue every Saturday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock by the Chamber of Commerce and 40 merchants of Canyon. However a slight change is being made in that the amount distributed will be reduced to $35 for the coming 16 weeks. At Christmas time an extra amount of $130 will be distributed.

W. A. Warren, president of the Chamber of Commerce made this announcement Saturday.

TWO WOMEN FINED FOR SHOP LIFTING MONDAY

Anna Bell Gann and Ruby Gregory, both of Amarillo, were arrested Monday on the charge of shop lifting in Canyon, and spent the night in jail. They were fined Tuesday $200 and warned about returning to the county.

The Gann woman was picked up here last fall on the same charge.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Terrill returned from Pittsburgh where they visited at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Jay Ream. Their grandson, Jimmie Ream, returned with them to spend the winter.

Canyon Has Highest Cream Market Quoted in the Panhandle

Canyon has the highest cream market in the Panhandle, according to information received here this week.

Cream is being sold by the farmers at various places over the Plains at 30c and 31c.

But in Canyon the price is 35c.

The market was hiked by the big companies two weeks ago when a local firm opened a cream department. But the increase does not hold good in any town but Canyon.

The producers are benefitting by the increase, and scores of farmers who have not traded in Canyon in the past are now bringing their cream to Canyon.

PANHANDLE MEMBER PRESS ASSOCIATION

The Chamber of Commerce has taken steps to formulate a program for Canyon throughout the fall, which will lead up to something big during the holidays. The program is one to which each and every citizen of Canyon may subscribe and approve, since it seeks to build up the commercial life of the community. There are more than 100 business and professional firms in Canyon, many of whom do little or have done little in the past to assist the Chamber of Commerce in pushing these public enterprises. This organization is a free will one, directed by a group of public spirited citizens who devote their time to public enterprises in order that the community as a whole may be benefitted. Perhaps there are many proposed plans which do not suit every citizen in Canyon, and in some instances may not interest every citizen in Canyon, but on the whole there is not an enterprise suggested which is not whole heartedly favorable for a bigger and better community. Let's get in behind this program, and uphold the hands of the officers who are giving so lavishly of their time to make Canyon a better place in which to live.

Killing the rats in the other fellow's basement is the popular passtime. For years and years the press of this nation has called upon the legislatures to enact court reform in order that justice might be sure and certain. The legislative bodies are composed very largely of lawyers. But no great reforms have been accomplished. The American Bar Association turned its guns on the press during the Boston meeting. No one connected with the press of this nation will fail to recognize the necessity of cleaning up the press so far as hanging criminal cases is concerned. But the rules of the court permit and make possible the disgraceful conditions which prevail in this nation. Why not the respectable representatives of the bar and press get together, elect high class men and women to the legislative bodies who will enact laws under which justice may be properly administered? In a recent session of the Texas legislature more than 60 bills were proposed to reform court procedure. Did any of them pass? No, not a one. All were killed in a committee composed exclusively of lawyers, most of them young and inexperienced lawyers.

Did you hear the talk of President Roosevelt Sunday night? If you did not, you should dig up a Monday morning's newspaper and read what he had to say. No more clear statement could have been made regarding the drouth situation than was made by the President. No more sensible solution could have been presented than was advocated by Mr. Roosevelt. Perhaps some of the foolish things about depopulating certain sections of the west were not really said by some of the New Dealers, but were versions of the foes of the administration put these words in the mouths of the administration followers. Regardless of what others have said or thought, the President most emphatically made it clear that the national government believes in this western section and that the resources of the nation would be used to conquor the drouth and erosion of the land. The President made it clear to the east that the workers of that section were depending upon the welfare of the farmers of the west. The first fireside chat of the President in 16 months was said to have been listened to by an eager and enthusiastic nation, who are sympathetic toward the national problem which means so much to our people.

Bob Barker, secretary of the Texas State Senate, has written members of the new legislature which convenes in Austin getting a line up on the bills which will be introduced. Among the constitutional amendments which will be proposed is one to make the term of office for all county officials four years instead of two. This is brought about by the increasing cost of the primary election, and the brutal methods employed by the people during the direct primary. A few members have indicated an interest in the preferential primary, and others favor shortening the ballot, giving the Governor the power to appointment to more state posts. Governor Allred has expressed a desire to abolish the second primary, but is not sold on the idea of the preferential primary which is being used in many states. The next session of the legislature should be an interesting one. The old age assistance will be the favored subject, unless the special session which is scheduled to be called this week succeeds in making a number of changes which the members are advocating.

A former Federal Judge had an interesting article in Sunday's Dallas News on "The Only Way to Beat Crime." More laws, police and prisons can't do it; crime must be stopped before it can start, is the solution offered by a man who has devoted much of his life to the study of crime. "Save America's boyhood—that's the one sure way to beat crime," is his conclusion. According to statistics presented, 72% of the boys who were sent to reformatories continued in a life of crime. As soon as these boys are discharged, they embark upon a larger and more desperate scale of crime life. Building club centers in every town in the nation, and directing the activities of boys is set forth as the only means whereby the criminal instincts may successfully be handled, believes the writer. With a crime bill of 15 billion dollars annually, which increases year by year, certainly the people of this nation should take some interest in the plans of authorities to reduce this terrible waste of wealth and life.

Governor Landon will make only a few formal speeches during the campaign, but will travel far and wide in his super deluxe train, making social calls upon local Republican leaders, and delivering short impromptu talks from the rear platform. The Republican brain trust will leave the heavy speaking to Colonel Knox, who is a much more impressive speaker than Governor Landon. During the remainder of September and through the month of October interesting scenes will be enacted. So far the Democratic strategists have not outlined the entire program, but the convincing voice of President Roosevelt will be heard very often over the national radio hook-up.

Water your trees plentifully during the coming two weeks. The trees have suffered greatly by the continued drouth, and many will die unless given a liberal amount of water this fall. Those who know best the handling of trees state that the trees should be thoroughly soaked now, and then allowed to stand until about the first of January when they should again be thoroughly soaked unless there is winter moisture to do this job. Canyon has many beautiful trees which are suffering from the lack of moisture.

The Canyon public school band is planning to visit a number of schools in Randall county during the fall, putting on programs for the schools. This is a worthy undertaking, and will offer an opportunity for Canyon citizens to accompany the band in order to become better acquainted with the farmers of the county. By all means, Canyon business men should plan to accompany the band on these trips. Let's get better acquainted with the people of Randall county during this fall.

Senator Couzins of Michigan, wealthiest member of the Senate and a life-long Republican, has announced in favor of the re-election of President Roosevelt. If Senator Couzins is unafraid of what Democratic rule will do to the nation, certainly the rank and file of the Republican party will not be worried by the ghost which Governor Landon is attempting to make them see.

Deck Wells of the Wellington Leader tells of two brothers who are sure shot weather predicters. When they get up in the morning one of them says, "Well, it's going to rain today," while the other responds, "Nope, you're wrong, it won't rain today." Under this method they always hit the weather.

Mrs. Scollop: It says here that women have more courage than men.

Mr. Scollop: Yes, I can't imagine a man with only a quarter in his pocket trying on five or six suits of clothes.

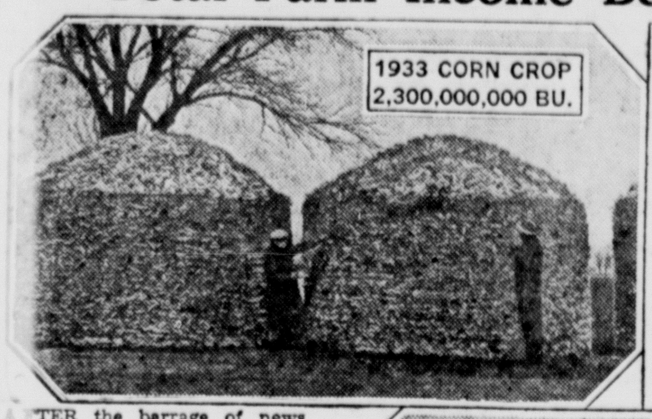
Haberdasher: I can recommend these shirts as especially strong. They simply laugh at laundries.

Mrs. Crabshaw: Yes; I know. They come out of the tub with their sides split.

Candidate: I stand for Congress on the principles of the platform adopted at the convention; on it I expect to be carried into office.

Voice: Oh, no; you're standing in a pair of shoes I sold you two months ago and unless you fork over $3 you can expect to be carried home in your bare feet.

Agricultural Picture Not All Gloom; Total Farm Income Best Since 1930



GROSS FARM INCOME

1930	$8,000,000,000
1931	6,000,000,000
1932	4,300,000,000
1933	5,400,000,000
1934	6,000,000,000
1935	6,900,000,000
1936	7,500,000,000

AFTER the barrage of news stories painting desperate pictures of a country's crops wiped out by unprecedented drouth, come cold, hard figures to show that the 1936 American farm scene is not entirely dismal.

There is, for instance, the matter of total farm cash income, which seems certain to be the highest since 1930. This income was up approximately one-third billion dollars for the first six months of this year, compared with the corresponding 1935 period.

With the advance continuing, agricultural authorities set the conservative income for the year at $7,500,000,000—a 10 per cent increase over last year.

Reason for this, of course, is that prices have risen more than production has decreased. The figures lend little encouragement to those middle western farmers who have nothing to show for the seed they planted last spring and who will share not one penny in the total farm income.

• • •

BUT many American farmers still can smile. Along the west coast there has been abundant rainfall, and drouth elsewhere has raised demand for west coast products. California figures are typical. Estimated crop value for 1936 is $666,991,000 against $555,253,000 for 1935, a 20 per cent increase.

The Pacific Northwest reports better than average crops, of exceptional quality.

Swinging eastward into the corn belt, where drouth and grasshoppers worked their greatest damage, the outlook becomes darker. But there are highlights even here.

Speaking for the entire section, the wheat crop is good, the corn crop very poor. Oats, hay, soy beans, potatoes, fruits, and other crops have been the salvation of many farmers who raised little corn. Dairy revenues and returns from livestock sales also have helped.

Iowa did not grow much tall corn this summer, but the farm income for that state—estimated at almost $500,000,000—will be the best in six years.

Illinois figures to take the corn production title from Iowa, for the first time in many years, with a probable yield of nearly 200,000,000 bushels. Other Illinois crops look good.

• • •

REPORTS from other breadbasket states strike an optimistic note—except from the Dakotas, where almost the entire populations of both states will have to be taken care of this winter by Works Progress Administration jobs or by direct cash relief. But even in the Dakotas, fair yields of some grains are reported.

Most of the south suffered little from drouth, and southern farmers in general had a good crop year. The situation is much the same in the east and New England.

Thus, from a survey of the entire nation, it appears that most American farmers will enjoy comfortable returns for their work this year.

Some will buy new cars. Others will modernize their farms. A great many will send their children to college.

In short, the typical American farmer has his chin up and money in his pockets.

Pardoning a Southern Accent

Dogs that bark too noisily have disturbed the traditional Dixie serenity, it seems, and southern veterinarians are doing something to soften the canine drawls. Here are Dr. H. L. Allen and Dr. L. J. Kepp, Atlanta, Ga., veterinarians, relieving a small V-shaped wedge on either side of a dog's vocal cord. This operation, neither painful nor dangerous, produces no lasting effects other than a modulation of the dog's bark.

SOUND BORROWING
Is Good Business!

In the average business there are usually certain seasons of the year when more money is required than at other seasons, and if the owners of the business provided capitol in so large an amount that it would never be necessary to borrow money, there would be seasons of the year when idle money would accumulate. It is therefore entirely sound for business houses to proportion their capital to their normal requirements and then to borrow money from their bank during the seasons when large funds are required.

In the career of the average individual, emergencies or opportunities sometimes arise requiring more ready cash than that individual hapens to have on hand in his reserve fund. The money must come from some source; what source could be more appropriate than the prospective borrower's bank, where he is known and his patronage appreciated? If he has a good credit record and a steady income it is entirely proper for him to borrow from his bank a sum in keeping with his circumstances and needs. Many bank depositors are unaware that their bank is quite willing to make small loans in this way; when the borrower has a justifiable need to borrow and can show the ability and intent to repay.

Sound borrowing is good business for the bank, the borrower and the community. That is why banks welcome applications for sound loans, small as well as large.

PLAYERS! LEARN WITH THE AMERICAN BOY

Boys and young men who want to improve their crawl stroke, their basket shooting, their hurdling, their tennis backhand, or their ball carrying, can enlist the aid of the nation's foremost coaches and players by subscribing to The American Boy magazine and following the sports interviews and fiction stories that appear each month.

For the coming year staff writers have gone to two of the greatest football teams in the country—Minnesota and Southern Methodist—for first hand tips on strategy, blocking, ball carrying, passing, and the fine points of line play. They have written the story of Bobbie Wilson, All-American halfback.

They have interviewed famous track coaches like Bernie Moore and Bob Simpson. Have gone to the University of Oklahoma to learn how college champions wrestle, to Notre Dame for the story of the building of a great basketball team. They have sought out famous baseball players, swimmers, tennis champions and All-American backs, to get their story of how to play the game.

American Boy fiction is jammed with instructive background details telling how to play a better game. And the rest of the magazine is jammed with adventure, exploration, vocational help and articles vital to boys.

Ohio State University's track coach of the famous sprinter and low hurdler, Jesse Owens, and himself a former hurdling star, first learned to hurdle from articles in The American Boy. "I used to cut out hurdling pictures and duplicate them in front of a mirror. Then on the track I'd follow that form."

Today thousands of future champions are just as eagerly following The American Boy. Send your subscription to The American Boy, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Mich. Enclose with your name and address $1 for a year's subscription, $2 for three years, and add 50 cents if you want the subscription to go to a foreign address. On newsstands, 10 cents a copy.

"Why the beards?" he asked. "Dinna ye remember, Donald?" replied they. "You took the razor with you."—Wal Street Journal.

PRETTY BAD

A certain popular footballer had—as all players do—an off day, when he could do nothing right.

The crowd demonstrated its displeasure, and his fellow players looked at him askance, but bore it all stoically.

The final blow fell, however, when he left the ground at the end of the game. A grubby urchin, who had been hanging around the players' entrance, sidled up to him and thrust a piece of paper into his hand.

"'Ere, mister," he said sadly, "there's yore blinkin' autograrf back."—London Answers.

As Mechanical Cotton Picker Got First Big Test

Government experts are seeking to determine whether the Rust brothers' new mechanical cotton picker is economically feasible after the machine picked about an acre of cotton in an hour at its first public demonstration, in Stoneville, Miss. While the machine demonstrated that it could pick a large part of the cotton, it gathered green leaf and fine trash; and several observers believed that this would reduce value of the pickings enough to offset savings in picking cost. The machine is seen, left above, as it moved through the cotton field in the demonstration. Mack Rust, co-inventor with his brother, John, is pictured right above, displaying pickings of the machine.

Cal Farley Talks About Summer Trip to Europe, Tuesday

Cal Farley of Amarillo proved to be an interesting entertainer Tuesday at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club, as he described his trip to Europe during the summer. He was introduced by Irby Carruth, chairman of the International Relations committee.

Farley won a free trip to the Olympic Games offered by the Goodrich Tire Company. His wife and daughter accompanied him, and they took their car, finding it much cheaper and faster to travel in this manner in spite of the high prices of gasoline. He drove 3300 miles in Europe, finding good roads all of the way.

Mr. Farley described his visits to Rotary clubs, over the battle fields, and other places of interest. On July 14th Red flags were displayed every place in Paris, with few of the national flags in evidence. There is no confidence in the French government; the people are in a state of unrest. The working people are in control and they are exacting unreasonable demands.

Of the 130,000 Americans killed in France about 30,000 bodies remain in well kept cemeteries under the direction of ex-service men. Mr. Farley attended the peace service at Verdun in which 100,000 ex-service men from all nations took part, pledging themselves for peace.

Germany is happy under Hitler, stated Mr. Farley. He has done much for the people in improving conditions. Germany is ready for war at any time. He described the preparations which he saw, and the wonderful system of roads, unequalled in any place in the world. It is believed that these roads were built for the purpose of rapid transportation of troops in case of war.

"Hitler is a great showman," stated Farley as he described him standing among 30,000 people in front of his home as the crowd cheered, and urged him to come out to salute them.

Among the American athletes whom he saw at the Olympic games was Joe Fortenberry of Canyon and Happy.

Other nations visited were Switzerland, Luxumburg, Austria, Bavaria, Holland, Belgium, and England.

The Rotary Club gave Lee Johnson a vote of thanks for the splendid services rendered as secretary. He will leave next week for the University of Missouri to work toward his Ph. D. degree.

Robert Foster was elected secretary to succeed Mr. Johnson.

Nine citizens from Happy who were interested in organizing a Rotary Club were present as follows: T. L. Fore, Rev. E. C. Ramey, Rev. H. C. Akers, Ed Sprowls, Chas. Spears, G. G. Vernon, O. M. Fowler, and G. H. Jones.

Other visitors were: Horace M. Russell, W. S. Norman, Fred O'Brian, O. W. Wright of Amarillo; Dr. Bruce McCulley of Claremont, Calif., T. V. Slack of Canyon.

It seems to us that the parachute jumber who landed on an outdoor dance floor near Pittsburgh might have crashed the gate with a little more finesse.

The African cheetah can run 103 feet a second. They don't need quite so much speed in the U. S., since all American policemen "have big feet."

Those two Saginaw, Mich. men who were jailed for trying to kiss women in the neighboring city of Alma may merely have been saluting their Alma maters.

Featuring Unusual Fabric Contest

A very different fabric combination is employed in this fall creation of sleek black satin and deep henna-colored pebble crepe. Worn by Margaret Lindsay, movie actress, the black dress is topped with a flaring tunic of the lighter color. It buttons down the front, redingote fashion, and has scalloped collar and pockets made of laced bands of black satin. Fitted sleeves have tiny caps at the shoulders.

Drouth Relief Dims All Other Campaign Factors in Midwest

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON.—Some idea of the political repercussions that may follow the charring drouth of the middlewest is furnished by official estimates that more than 2,000,000 people on farms and in farm communities will need direct federal relief before winter.

The Resettlement Administration, only agency authorized to make cash grants, predicts that more than 500,000 heads of families on farms and in small towns dependent on farms will need help.

This means that, if outdoor projects of the Works Progress Administration are discontinued because of unfavorable weather, RA's $85,000,000 rehabilitation fund may be insufficient to meet the drouth emergency.

Almost 100,000 destitute farmers are working now on WPA projects. If RA is forced to take over support of these men and their families after winter sets in, the monthly outlay would approximate $9,000,000—much more than now is available to RA each month.

• • •

MANY relief authorities questioned the Resettlement Administration's ability to carry the load it forecast for itself weeks ago. This burden was just about half of that which RA now faces.

And use of available funds to meet the drouth emergency would halt most of the activity in regular RA rehabilitation and land utilization programs.

The last federal relief appropriation made available 15 per cent of other earmarked amounts for needs such as the drouth has brought. But it is believed these amounts will prove of little help in caring for the penniless farmers and their dependents.

The terrific crop destruction wrought by drouth is best illustrated by figures from the Dakotas. A WPA report from Bismarck predicts that 75 per cent of the population of both states will be on relief by fall. Almost 700,000 people live in each state.

• • •

BAD crops usually are a handicap to the party holding the reins of government. It is a political axiom that economic misfortunes almost always are laid at the feet of those who are running things.

The Democrats will, no doubt, answer predictions that the drouth will hurt their November chances by pointing to the 1934 congressional elections. That year the Democrats increased their congressional majority right on the heels of a drouth which the Agriculture Department called the worst the United States ever experienced.

And the Republicans may be expected to come back with the assertions that the net Democratic gain of seven seats in the House of Representatives came mostly from the east and that the G. O. P. gained seven seats in four midwestern grain states which, of course, were most affected by heat and lack of rain.

The eastern voters have turned against the New Deal since 1934, the Republicans will tell you.

But leaders of both parties, despite their optimistic chortlings, are necessarily very much in the dark about political reaction to the drouth and to drouth relief, for the campaign is just entering the all-important stretch drive.

PAY .. BY THE 10TH

Credit in the business world is based on the prompt payment of bills. "Pay by the 10th of the month following purchase," is the rule wholesalers and jobbers expect retailers to live up to.

And in turn your home merchant must ask you to pay for the goods or service which you purchase of him "by the 10th" so it will be possible for him to keep his credit good.

Credit is an endless chain of good faith. Don't be the "weak link."

Pay by the 10th, and keep your credit good with your home merchant.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

Martin Yields to Temptation—Picks Nation's Best in Coming Football Season; Minnesota Gets His Vote for U. S. Champion

BY PHILIP MARTIN

FOOTBALL is a well-nigh unpredictable sport, as witness prosperity of the boys who operate the pick four, pick five, etc., rackets during the fall season.

But along in September the sports scribes invariably begin considerations, their countenances wear sage-of-the-ages expressions, and they nominate "great" teams that usually get kicked around by some cow college with almost fewer enrollees than the big schools have deans.

Many things can happen to a football squad between campaigns. Once in a while a coach will be blessed with a bunch of sophomores that tears a major conference apart. This same group may be ultra futile in the junior year. Enthusiasm sometimes wears off. And grades must be made and late carousing steered clear of.

Other green hopefuls may hit their peak near the end of their college years and be hailed as the "team that came back."

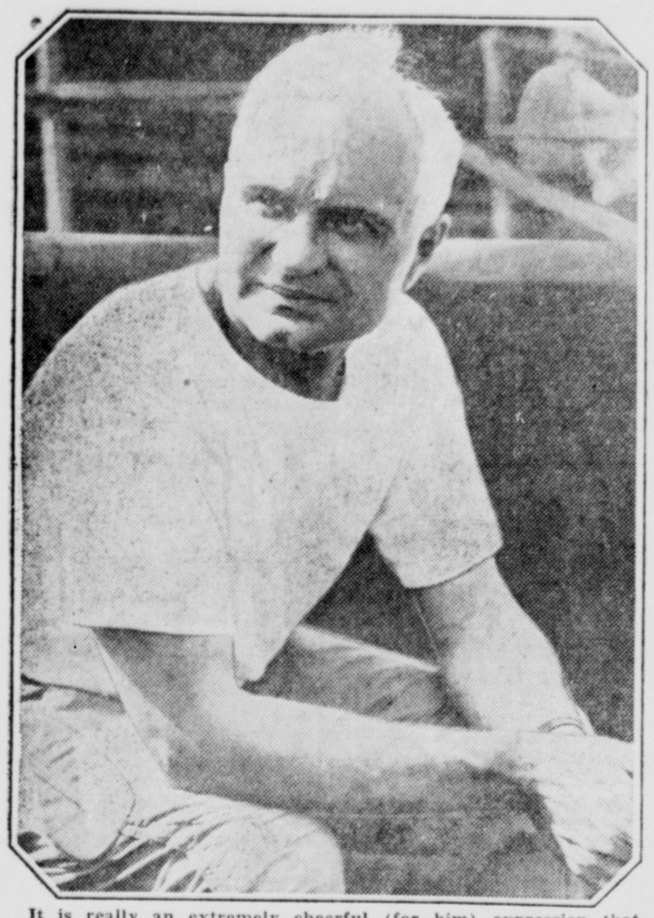
One great player may make a great team out of a very ordinary array of gridsters, despite the team play song and dance. To be good, a team must have blocking, but you never saw a great outfit without at least one player of All-American caliber.

* * *

DESPITE the fact that he should know better, your correspondent annually climbs out on a well-worn branch and sprinkles about a few pearls of prognostication that time and again have been proved utterly valueless. So here are the 1936 trifles:

East: Pittsburgh looks best. The Smoky City school had a fine team last year and, with experience and the addition of some spectacular recruits, should be almost unstoppable. Princeton suffered heavy graduation losses, but may come up with another high-scoring machine. The Tigers ought to be helped along by new men. Don't overlook Dartmouth.

Big Ten: Bernie Bierman and Minnesota are always good risks. Ohio State and Northwestern look second and third best. Outside the conference, but in the same section, Notre Dame and Michigan State will have their usual high-powered elevens.



It is really an extremely cheerful (for him) expression that Bernie "Gloomy Gus" Bierman wears in this recent picture. And coaches whose teams meet Bernie's Minnesota Gophers this fall may do well to take warning.

Big Six: Nebraska makes a habit of dominating this circuit, but Oklahoma and Missouri are coming up this fall and the other teams are well fortified.

* * *

SOUTH: Louisiana State might crash through, with a bit of luck. Duke, Tennessee, and Alabama will push the Tigers.

Southwest: Texas gets the call, just slightly louder than Texas Christian. It is asking too much of Matty Bell to conjure up a front runner from the remains of his S. M. U. Rose Bowl second-placers.

Rocky Mountain: Hard to figure, but we'll take a flyer on Utah, after a quick look at past records.

Pacific Coast: West Coasters already are caroling the praises of a "colossal" eleven at Washington and we won't quarrel with them. California's Bears are going to be tough.

Oh, well, we might as well go whole hog—

NATIONAL CHAMP: Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. David Horn of Tucumcari, N. M., spent from Saturday until Monday evening in the parental W. A. Cates home.

WPA Foreman: That new man you sent down yesterday has broken three shovels already.

Administrator: He must be some worker.

Foreman: Nope; some leaner.

Storekeeper: What kind of soap do you want, my boy?

Henry: Just any kind that's got lots of perfume in it so's Ma kin smell it and won't make me wash all over again.

The successful business man may neglect his figure, but he watches his figures carefully.

Early Maine Election Watched for Tipoff on National Result

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON—The national capital is watching with particular interest that offside September election up in Maine.

Although the "As goes Maine—" saying has been discredited in several past elections, Republican and Democratic chieftains are very much aware of the tremendous psychological advantage to be gained by a good showing in this preliminary skirmish.

Off the record, Democrats who know what goes on politically will tell you the Republicans will win Sept. 14, when Maine chooses a U. S. senator, a governor, and three representatives.

Master Minder Farley and his advisers have been sending their best orators into the state. Even the president has paid it a visit. But, while the administration hopes for a surprise victory, the real objective is to prevent a landslide. Maine has been one of the most thoroughly Republican states in straw votes.

• • •

THE United States doesn't always follow Maine's lead. The state has gone Republican every presidential election except that of 1912, when the G. O. P. split. The Democrats have won five presidential elections since the Civil War, and in only one of those years did they take Maine's September election. That was in 1932, and that year Hoover led Roosevelt after the Republicans had dropped the earlier contests.

The lineup in this month's election pits U. S. Senator Wallace White, Republican, against Gov. Louis J. Brann for the Senate seat; Maine's Secretary of State Louis O. Barrows, Republican, against Democratic National Committeeman Harold F. Dubord for the governorship.

The Republicans are conceded the best chance in both of these contests and in two of the three congressional elections.

Brann has built up a reputation as a vote-getter and, although he is anti-New Deal, the administration is banking heavily on his personal popularity. Loss of the support of numerous Republican newspapers, several FERA mixups and a party row over dismissal of the state National Emergency Council director haven't helped Brann's candidacy. And he is up against a front runner in Senator White.

• • •

DUBORD has campaigned energetically and is solidly behind the New Deal. He almost beat Senator Frederick Hale in 1934. His opponent, Barrows, a veteran and well-liked politician, has adopted as his chief campaign issues federal spending, the national debt, and failure of Maine to benefit greatly from the AAA.

Aiding the Democratic cause will be the business improvement and the president's statement that he hopes the Passamaquoddy power project will be completed.

It is believed that most of Maine's factory and relief workers will vote Democratic, with the rural sections going heavily Republican.
